Bryan S. Schultz is a trusted legal advisor to Fortune 500, middle-market, and emerging public and private companies, providing strategic guidance on complex business matters. As a partner in the firm's Corporate, Transactions, and Mergers & Acquisitions Practices, Bryan helps U.S. and multinational companies structure and implement high-value transactions, navigate business challenges, and achieve measurable results.

Bryan's practice focuses on acquisitions, divestitures, joint ventures, and strategic alliances, together with corporate and commercial matters such as governance, commercial agreements, succession planning, and conflict resolution. He also serves as outside general counsel to private companies and U.S. subsidiaries of foreign organizations, offering ongoing strategic and legal support that drives growth and operational success.

Bryan has represented buyers, sellers, and target companies in more than 175 transactions totaling over $25 billion in aggregate consideration. His work spans the United States, Europe, Asia, and the Americas, providing a global perspective and the ability to navigate complex, multi-jurisdictional transactions efficiently.

Clients rely on Bryan for his combination of transactional expertise, strategic insight, and results-driven approach. He simplifies complex issues, anticipates challenges before they arise, and drives high-stakes matters forward with precision. Known for his collaborative style and steady guidance, Bryan helps clients achieve outcomes that deliver long-term value and lasting impact.
